

Your expertise everywhere.

Take your repetitive legal processes and document creation tasks – and automate them.

New from NetDocuments, PatternBuilder empowers legal professionals to replicate and automate your unique templates and processes, so they're done the right way — your way — every time. Using your expertise, data, and logic rules, PatternBuilder can automatically generate entire packages of documents with the click of a button.

And because PatternBuilder is a no-code tool, your legal team can easily create and update automations without the help of software developers or IT professionals.

Today's modern legal teams need powerful tools that help you create and maintain a complete repository for content, streamline governance, reduce the time and costs of compiling documents, and empower you to automate repetitive work — with the flexibility to securely share content with both internal and external groups.

With PatternBuilder, you can:

Create Customized, Error-Free Documents at Scale

Embed document assembly directly into your DMS. Go beyond “find and replace” with custom automations that populate user inputs into your Word and PDF documents and automatically save those documents in the folder or workspace of your choosing — all in a matter of seconds.

Simplify Complex Tasks

Connect multi-part processes like approvals and reviews through powerful document automations that incorporate your business's unique rules and logic.

Innovate While Remaining Compliant

Where many automation solutions don't measure up to the security and compliance requirements of law firms, highly regulated industries, and the public sector, PatternBuilder comes with NetDocuments' sophisticated multilayer security and compliance certifications that thousands of similar organizations already trust with their most important data.

Whether you are a small team that needs to produce large volumes of high-quality, specialized documents or a large operation that wants to create innovative solutions to address the ever-changing needs of your clients and constituents, PatternBuilder by NetDocuments is your easy-to-use app builder for that.
